I have previously kept and supplied to the E.H.O. noise diaries regarding 'MODA'. This is my statement to provide further information regarding the problems I have encountered over the past 12 months.

It seems the worst of noise from 'MODA' is caused by excessively loud music, particularly on nights when they have a late event in the 1st floor rooms. Doors and windows are routinely left open, which means the very high bass levels and changes in tempo are allowed to disturb me in my home. It makes it hard to relax, watch television on these evenings, and also very difficult to fall asleep and almost impossible to have unbroken sleep, as these events usually continue until at least 4am, sometimes 6am.

'MODA' customers frequently leave the venue to smoke outside and are allowed to congregate outside the open doors. It doesn't appear that door supervisors, when present, encourage them not to loiter or to keep noise down.
